BASE BALL

The Little Leagues and the Big Ones. Newark, N. J., Dec 16. The Newark Evening News to dar publishes an inter-view with George M. Ballard, last year President of the Eastern Base Ball League, resident of the Eastern Base Ball League, regarding the acheme of clubs belonging to the union leagues all over the country to band themselves together and fight the National League and American Association by unit og in stringent rules for blacklisting and reserving players. Ballard believes the leagues can break up the great base ball monumoly.

Among the bills it troduced and feferred vas one by Mr. Van Wyok, proposing an mendment to the constitution in relation to the election of U. S. Senators.

Mr. Blair offered a Resolution instructing

Mr. Blair offered a resolution instructing the committee on finance to inquire into the propriety of reporting a bill providing a rebate on all imported materials incorporated with domestic materials converted into other articles exported to foreign countries for sale, thereby providing for an extension of foreign trade without reducing the prices of American lab ir. Adopted.

A bill to perhit owners of American vessels and their cargoes to sue the gov-ernment for losses caused by collision with United States vessels arising from their misseuroper. nismanagement was advocated by Messrs Syarts and Hoar and opposed by Messrs de Millan, George and Conger. Mr. Dolph supported it. Sut would have been better pleased if its principle had been extended further. No bill was passed, the vote on ordering is to the third reading being 24 to 17.

The bill grant's reading being 24 to 17.

The bill granting a pension to Mrs. Barbara Fuchs, step-motier of a soldier, was opposed by Mr. Cockrril as establishing a new principal and was defended by Messrs. Edununds, Blair and Platt. Tebill was passed and a motion to reconsider rejected, Yeas 8, Nays 36.

The Senate then took up the unfaished business of yesterday, being the bill to repeal the tenure of office act.

Mr. Edmunds addressed the Senate in opposition to the bill. He argued that if executives of state governments could robe trusted, (as they were not) with Kingly be trusted, (as they were not) with Kingly power, it was still more important that the national executive should not be trusted with such power.

The tenure of office law was a restraint. et with such power.

The tenure of, office law was a restraint own, although the President was making a great number of suspensions. The passage of the pending bill would be an infitation—more than an invitation—it would be a recognition, an approval of the death at on purely political grounds of opinion that on purely political grounds of opinion the President ought (as his predecessors had done before the tenure of office sore had done before the tenure of office alter to important public positions and although to work of the department officer or with the party. He thought it would be a step five years backward in progress, removing the working operatives of the Government from the more condition of political fortune and prize and stake.

He believed all these offices ought to be

He believed all these offices ought to be He believed all these offices ought to be held for fixed terms and he was perfect y willing that the President might, for every vacancy, select a man of his own persuasion. If there was to be a change a couple of years hence, as he trosted at d hoped and believed there would be, all these matters would then be removed from the mear strife and sent and contention of these matters would then be removed from the mere strife and spoil and contention of politics. (Atthis pointMr. Edmunds was attacked with a fit of coughing which forced him to resume his seat.)

Mr. George made a constitutional and historical argument in favor of the bill.

Mr. Everus addressed the Senate atsting that he would vote for the bill and that the grounds of constitutionality would, not cover his vote but that the grounds of expediency would. If removals from office, he said, were to tur to two concurrent judgments (where the President and Senate might be opposed in politics) it would follow that the repognance of the Senate might keep a man in office whom the President desired to dispense with and by whose action the President with and by whose action the President with and by whose action the President services and the President and by whose action the President and by whose action the President services are serviced as a service with and by whose action the President services are serviced as a service with and by whose action the President services are serviced as a service with and by whose action the President services are serviced as a service with and by whose action the President services are serviced as a serv other whom the President desired to dis-pense with and by whose action the Pres-ident could not accomplish his duty. At the close of Mr. Evarts' speech the Senate, at 4.30 o'clock, went into execu-tive session and when the doors re-opened

On motion of Mr. Bnrrows, of Michlgan, On motion of Mr. Barrows, of Michigan, the Senate bill was spassed amending sections of revised statutes which provide for the payment of a pension out of the navai fund to every penson who "served as an enlisted person in the navy or marine corps." The bill is designed to cover, the cases of those who actually rendered the same ervice as appointed petty officers although not actually enlisted.

salpo extrice as appointed petry orders although not actually erlisted.

It applies to about one hundred nearwho have acted as yeomen, engineers, apothecaries and masters-at-arms. The Senate bill was passed promising that Admirals Rowan and Worden may, after forty years service, be retired from active service on their own application with the highest pay of the grade to which they belong.

On motion of Mr. Dingley, of Maine, a bill was passed refunding to James A. Hagar 81,100 for fees illegally collected from the ship St. James, of Richmond | Maine, Mr. Dingley of Maine, presented remanstrances against the Dunn free ship bill from the following associations and firms: Boards of Trade of Buth, Me., Bridgeport, Conn., Minneapolis, Minn., and San Rrancisco, Cal.; the Pacific Coast Ship Owners Association, the National Shipping League, the National Ship Owners' Association, E. THE SCHOOLS. The winter term of the public schools commences Monday, Jan. 3d and will continue ten weeks. The past term has been a very successful one, all the teachers working hard and the schools dancers would have driven up to Grono running smoothly. The changes which follow have recently taken place in the assignment of teachers: Miss Maria F. Smith has been promoted from the second class it the Abbott Square Grammar School to the first class; Miss Alice Buckfourth class of the Abhott Square Grammar. Miss Hattie S. Phillips, of the Union street Intermediate, has resigned and Miss Sadie G. Elder, her assistant, succeeds her. Miss Apple M. Reed, from the Bagley District, succeeds Miss Elder. The following suburban teachers have been elected: Mount Hope District, Hattie W. Spratt; Stillwater Avenue District, Kate M. Allamby; Hillside District, Mabe Martin; Bagley District, Mary Lizzie Towle; Sherburne District, Mrs. H. M. Towie; Six Mile Falls, Margaret E. Commander Lane's General Orders to the Maine G. A. R.

Department Commander Samuel W. Lane, of the Grand Array of Maine, has just issued General Orders No. 3, only the following extracts from which are of public interest:

The newly elected officers of Posts will be installed the first regular meeting in January. In all Posts where no Special detail is made for the purpose, the Sentor Past Post Commander present will agt as Installing Officer, and in the event of no Past Post Commander being present, any member of the Department Staff can act as Installing Officer. In case any Post should desire the services of any particular comparate to install its officers, the detail will be made upon application to these headquarters before January. If, from any cause, there should be no Past Post Commander, Staff Officer or detailed comrade present on the night of installation, the present Post Commander, having been re-elected, can install the officers, and the Sentor Vice. lic interest:
